dress an Immense Gathering in the Afternoon

Majority in Indiana Appears to Him Assured.

Maine at Indianapolis October 11 The reception tendered Mr Blaine was one of the most successful ever held in Indianapolis Early trains poured their thousands into the city Nearly all of the railroads ran special trains but the roads were not able to bring the numbers who desired to come More than a thousand extra policemen were employed It is estimated that upon over 60 000 visitors had arrived Early in the day the streets were thronged throughout the business and residence portions and pedestrians found it a task to travel Scores of bands and drum corps were marching to and fro the scene during the morning was one of confusion and noise The streets were crowded, and the band and drum was to be heard everywhere

Upon the streets around the Blaine headquarters at the New Denison hotel, it was all and at times nothing but a solid wall of humanity as to be seen for two squares down Pennsylvania avenue At one time General Harrison accompanied Mr Blaine, arrived at the New Denison and made their way across the pavement to the latter reviewed the procession Harrison was the signal for a tremendous outburst from the crowd which packed like sardines in the streets Mrs Beside Gen Harrison stood Mrs Blaine and Mrs Dimick, accompanied by Gen Woods and a number of other ladies Ay one who on the reviewing balcony were ex-Senator Ferry, ex-Governor Foster, ex-Senator Porter, Judge W F Niblack, Gen Woods, press reporters and a hundred others The immediate comments on the appearance of Harrison and Blaine continued for several hours after the latter first for Harrison then for Blaine Both gentlemen repeatedly lifted their hats in response

When the cannon told the thousands that the column was coming it was two o'clock when the police made their way slowly through the dense streets, opening a way for Grand Marshal Millard following mounted aides and the reviewing stand they halted a moment with military precision and saluted The procession an hour and thirty minutes and it is estimated there were in line, a large majority of them in uniforms There were not forty bands and drum corps in the procession At the rear of the first came a gigantic Harrison and Blaine drawn by four horses, and continuously on the frame work the first campaign ball seen in and its passage elicited a storm of cheers and cheers.

The most demonstrative organization was the Irish club their banner Protection. It's Irish you They also carried a mammoth one hundred feet long inscribed with letters "Cead mille fail te Stephen Americanceile James Perhaps the club that the greatest applause was one of the girls ranging from 12 to 15 Harrison's Daughters," from They wore jackets of blue and stripes, shirts of red, blue, with blue caps. While marching the stand they gracefully lifted holding them at salute while and chanting "We are for Gen General Harrison and saluted them repeatedly there were a dozen clubs nearly a thousand manufacturing Illinois club carried an old flag of the campaign of 1840, cheers wherever it passed the review General and Mrs took a carriage and were driven Wayne was driven to the exposition arriving at the speaker's the rear of the great coliseum ground Surrounding the was a multitude estimated at 20 Blaine entered the stand a shout went up from the multitude the din of so many voices with thirty or forty bands and was almost deafening

Hovey and Rev Ira J Chase and other speakers had Blaine to the exposition General Hovey made a brief introduced by Rev Mr Chase for lieutenant governor Chase was speaking continued his address notes the din and cheering and Blaine stepped forward

FELLOW AND GENTLEMEN—I Chase his position on the Chase and address the Atlanta as to speak to a vast crowd I hope to a small section of a overflowing but I cannot here exchange greetings to extend congratulations and to say to you how I see it that this of people means 15 000 for Harrison and more that a demonstration of all Indiana is worth to any man living Good

THE RAILROAD HORROR

Fifty-seven Victims Recorded From the Lehigh Valley.

A Revolting Exposure of the Coroner's Lunacy.

Most Distressing Scenes Witnessed at the Morgue Tonight.

Duplicated at the Reception of the Dead by Their Friends.

The Lehigh Valley Horror.

WILKESBARRE, Pa, October 11 Perhaps the most appalling railroad disaster that ever occurred in this section of the country took place on the Lehigh Valley railroad at Mud Run on the Lehigh Valley railroad at Buttonwood, last night Two trains were nearly new Lehigh Valley passenger trains, one bound for Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, the other for Hazleton Those were the two sections of the express which were the cause of the terrible loss of life

[illegible]

The accident occurred in this way Mud Run is a small station on the Lehigh Valley railroad, about seven miles from Wilkesbarre Here there is a bridge which crosses the Lehigh river, and which is supported by four piers One of these piers was struck by the engine of the express which was on the Hazleton division, and the result was the wreck of the train, the killing of a number of passengers and the injuring of many others

The accident occurred at 7:30 o'clock last night, and the news of it was received in this city about 8 o'clock Immediately upon the receipt of the news the Wilkesbarre depot became the scene of the wildest excitement Crowds were quickly gathered together, and the streets in the vicinity of the depot were soon blocked by people anxious to learn the full extent of the disaster Finally a train was made up, and a number of physicians, together with a large force of railroad officials, started for the scene of the accident

The train consisted of two cars, and there were about 150 people on board when it left the depot Many of the passengers were residents of Wilkesbarre, and were going to their homes in the valley to spend Sunday with their families

The train had proceeded but a short distance when the engineer, who was running at a high rate of speed, suddenly discovered that the bridge was open Reversing his engine, he endeavored to stop the train, but it was impossible to do so in time to prevent the locomotive from plunging into the river

The engine turned completely over in the water, and the baggage car, which was next to it, followed it into the river The passenger coaches remained on the track, but the force of the shock was so great that they were thrown from their trucks, and rolled down the embankment into the river

The scene which followed the accident was one of the most appalling character imaginable The river at this point is very deep, and the current is very swift The cries of the drowning people, as they struggled in the water, were heard by the people on the shore, and many heroic efforts were made to rescue the victims

The people in the cars behind the ones that went down were panic-stricken by the frightful fate that had overtaken their companions, and many of them jumped from the windows of the cars and swam to the shore Several who were on the bridge at the time of the accident succeeded in reaching the shore in safety

Many of those who were thrown into the river were drowned before they could be reached by their friends, and their bodies were carried down the river by the swift current Several who were drowned were rescued by their friends, but were dead when taken from the water

The work of rescuing the drowning people and recovering the bodies of the dead was begun as soon as the wreck occurred, and was kept up all night Several who were drowned were rescued by their friends, but were dead when taken from the water

The work of rescuing the drowning people and recovering the bodies of the dead was begun as soon as the wreck occurred, and was kept up all night

It was on the train drew up at Pleasant Valley that the most heartrending scenes were enacted Ropes had been stretched about the depot and guards kept the immense throng back The shrieks and screams of stricken friends and relatives were pitiful in the extreme The first body carried out was that of Oscar Gibbons, 13 years of age, borne in the arms of his stalwart brother. Then another mother-forty-six were shocked before were carried out and given into the charge of friends The shrieks and cries of women and horrible shouts and imprecations of men made a terrible scene. When all were out the train again pulled out to bear the remaining dead to Scranton and points beyond.

The Chicago Strike

CHICAGO, October 11 In view of the serious demonstrations yesterday Mayor Roche this morning issued a proclamation calling on the people of the city not to congregate on the streets Street cars were run on the North side this morning The tracks were torn up in a number of places and obstructions placed in many parts of the city Considerable rioting was reported in progress Yerkes declares the road operates the right to run cars Every effort is being made to run cars on the West side It is thought the afternoon Serious trouble is anticipated notwithstanding the fact that a [illegible] spikers died on Captain Aldrich this morning and protected the [illegible]

Chief of Police Hubbard this afternoon issued a general order that the police must keep the crowd moving and must strongly repress all disorder from its inception using whatever amount of force is necessary to accomplish that result Mayor Roche says if the city authorities will have to [illegible] in order At Sedgwick and Lincoln avenue this afternoon a crowd of three thousand people threw stones at the cars and the police finally restored order Late afternoon two cars were run, escorted by police, were brought to the Western avenue barns on the west side. A rumor spread that the company was about to start a dozen cars A mob of three thousand gathered and advanced in a determined [illegible] police but some of the strikers refused to move and nine of them were arrested

CHICAGO, October 11—At 4 o'clock two cars were sent out in the west division About one hundred and twenty-five policemen were on duty and succeeded in keeping the crowd which numbers five thousand from interfering The trip back and forth on Madison street was full of excitement At two points stones were hurled one of which struck a woman, knocking her down. The thrower of the second stone was immediately arrested After this a great mob was collected part of which attempted to pound the driver of the car but the police kept the crowd in check Julius Kalsenberg, a former conductor on the [illegible] was locked up at the Chicago avenue station, and Captain Schaack who interviewed the prisoner thinks the man is a dynamiter. Is carefully investigating the case. The prisoner was found strewing along the tracks some black objects about the size of walnuts Whether these contained enough explosive to be dangerous will be determined by investigation

T. W. HARRISON, Signal Service Observer.

One vagrant appears before Justice Scovill in the police court yesterday morning.

Mr. S. Sposier, who was stricken with apoplexy on Sunday while walking on Pike's Peak avenue, is reported considerably better.

There are undelivered messages at the Western Union office for John S. Bartlett, Homer West, L. R. Norton and Jerome Miller.

Mr. Thomas Allen will have a fine horse on the city, in town and will be prepared to clip horses at short notice.

Prof. C. Cassier, jr., of Manitou, is prepared to give instructions on the piano or organ. He inserts an ad. in this morning's GAZETTE, which it will be well to read.

According to the hand bills distributed yesterday advertising the base ball game to day the Jacksons were on top but the Crowell boys are positive that it is only 60 on the bills.

There is an exhibition at the Midland cigar store 6 Cascade avenue, over the drug store which will be voted to the most popular hose company in the department at the Catholic fair on the 24th.

At the residence of Dr. S. E. Solly yesterday afternoon the ceremony was performed uniting in marriage Mr. Thomas G. Waterman and Miss Helen [illegible]. The [illegible] was assisted.

Wm. Scott & Co. of 124 South Tejon street have received three car loads of heating and cooking stoves. Mr. Wm. Scott, the old Erie merchant, has taken his nephew, Wm. D. Scott, recently from the east, into partnership with him.

An additional attraction at the ball grounds to-day, will be the extinguishment of a fire by the Miller Hand chemical fire engine. It will occur about 4 o'clock. When the players will be resting up for the second half of the terrible contest.

At the exhibition of the Miller Hand Chemical Fire engine, on the corner of Tejon and Huerfano streets, to night, at [illegible] gallons of gas, tar and coal oil, will be lighted on a surface of boards 10x16 feet, and will be quickly extinguished.

Mr. M. Heimer, who has been engaged in the North End meat market continuously for the last five years, left yesterday for a month's visit to relatives in Des Moines, Iowa. Mrs. Heimer accompanied her husband on the trip. Before leaving Mr. Heimer ordered the DAILY GAZETTE sent to him during his absence that he might keep posted on affairs in Colorado Springs.

A party of Denver business men passed through the city yesterday in a special car for Cascade, where they spent the day and night, and will return home this morning. The party is composed of some of the most prominent business men of Denver, and is under the charge of P. [illegible] Agent Lee and Nye of the Midland. The party are guests of the Cascade Town company.

The Rock Island track layers are now in plain sight of the city. The work train [illegible] in sight around the end of the bluff yesterday morning. It is thought the train will reach this city on Friday evening and the citizens have prepared to greet it with the firing of guns and rockets and the ringing of bells. The date of the banquet to be tendered the officers of the road has been set for Friday, the 26th.

The grand opening reception of the "Art Loan Exhibition" will take place on Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Price of admission for that evening will be 50 cents. After the first evening the admission price will be 25 cents. Season tickets not transferable, $1.00. The committee have thought it wise to place the price of admission at a figure low enough to induce our citizens to visit the exhibition as often as possible.

The exhibition of drawings and China paintings at the studio of Miss Warner, No. 21 South Nevada avenue, of which the GAZETTE has made previous mention, proves to be well worth a visit. Besides a large collection of studies from nature by Miss Warner's pupils which reflect much credit on both teacher and scholars, a number of pencil drawings and finely executed flowers in water colors by Miss Warner herself give evidence of an intelligent and artistic appreciation of nature and an ability to reproduce what she sees in a charming and attractive manner. Miss Warner's china painting is well known to be of exceptional merit and the fine display now on exhibition does not detract from her reputation for taste and execution in that line. All who availed themselves of the general invitation to call and see the display seemed much pleased. To-day will be the last of the exhibition.

The game of base ball to-day between the Crowells and the Jacksons was about the only topic of conversation on the streets last night. There was a large crowd present and a most enjoyable game was played. A [illegible] good time will be had and as both clubs will have all their players and boys [illegible] of excitement. The positions will be [illegible] Crowells, Jacksons. [illegible] Johnson, W. [illegible]

DALLAS, TEXAS.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE LARGEST CITY IN THE LARGEST STATE

A "Way Down South" Metropolis of Good Population with a Future That Will Astonish Even Its Most Enthusiastic Admirers.

CRESCENT CONFECTIONERY

NEW POSTOFFICE, DALLAS

Well, you may say that is all very fine, and no doubt like enough it is, perhaps well, but what about your personal experience? Now I am coming to that. Not a week passes but I receive a letter from some one of my friends in the north asking me if I have not been deceived in the representations that I made to them in regard to Dallas. Frank James was in my office a few days ago and he said that he had received a letter from a friend in Chicago asking him if I had not been deceived in the representations that I had made to him in regard to Dallas. Frank James is a man who is well known in Dallas and I would be the last person in the world to misrepresent anything to him. Frank James is known, as I first met him, as a reporter on the Texas Siftings. So far as the people of this town are concerned, there is not a man, woman or child in it but what knows me, and every city or town in which I have resided for the past ten years. I have lived in Dallas for the past two years and I have been engaged in the real estate business during that time. I have sold more property in Dallas than any other man in the city. I have sold property to the amount of $250,000. We have sold over 1,000 acres of land in Dallas, and I have platted and sold a number of additions to the city. I have sold property in different directions. I have sold property in the north part of town, in the south part of town, in the east part of town, and in the west part of town. I have sold property in the suburbs of Dallas. I have sold property in the city of Dallas

There should be no opposition to the appointment, to the consternation of Mr. Quarry to the office of Indian commissioner. His intimate knowledge of Indian affairs and the high order of ability which he displayed when superintendent of Indian schools is a sufficient guarantee of his capability to fill the office to which the president has lately appointed him.

The official report of immigration shows that 126,000 persons have changed their place of residence since January 1 from England and Ireland to this country. Here is an appropriate topic for some democratic missionary work, for these 126,000 people evidently lack the proper appreciation of the blessings of free trade, or they would not leave a country endowed with the [illegible] a protection land.

If Mr. Blaine is a true friend of temperance he took a most singular method to show his friendship. He coolly attacked Mr. Butler's declared stand on temperance [illegible] for the purpose of keeping [illegible] Mr. Blaine's array of facts showing the intimate connection of many [illegible] with several of the large and [illegible] corporations [illegible] sugar, salt and standard Oil trusts will prove interesting reading for the supporters of Mr. Cleveland who are so loudly charging the republican party with [illegible] for trusts and failure to protect them.

Senator Berry, of Arkansas, in proposing [illegible] to [illegible] of the late Confederacy. As to the reliance of her brother Democrats for this end, he thought the [illegible] had lived very extravagantly [illegible] and saved something from [illegible] to the treasury surplus would [illegible] the money to [illegible] than allow the widow of a [illegible] and destitute official the paltry sum of $8,473 from the Secret Service fund. It is a notorious fact that the salary of $10,000 is entirely inadequate to the demands of the chief justice's high official position. To those familiar with the intimate private life in Washington it is a regrettable well known fact that it was only by the constant practice of the most rigid economy that [illegible]

The Sterling Times and the Record have been finely [illegible] great [illegible] for years [illegible] Lake county [illegible] Mr. Johnson [illegible] well known banker [illegible] per month. Mr. Johnson [illegible] and from Kansas republican of Sterling, now offers through the Advocate $1,000 reward for the discovery of any [illegible] in either of the counties mentioned where either Mr. Cooper or the German National bank has been ready on trust [illegible] Mr. Cooper [illegible] Mr. H[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [
